

Top tips for student voice

During these uncertain times GSU, like everyone else, has moved to working remotely as we get through the Covid-19 situation alongside the rest of the University and wider society.

However, GSU are keen to ensure we are still supporting students through representation and student voice, and we have drawn up a list of top tips to help encourage you as academic staff to continue supporting the student voice here at Greenwich, albeit remotely!

New online Advice service

Signpost students to our new online advice service greenwichsu.co.uk/advice

Share any updates and keep in contact with GSU

Email us on reps@gre.ac.uk

Get in contact with reps@gre.ac.uk

to check if we have an up to date list of your programme reps

Getting lecturers to promote societies and encourage students to join at greenwichsu.co.uk/academic-communities/ to see a list of all academic societies. Elections are underway to vote in next year's committees. Encourage members to nominate and vote for the new committee. This is important as we want societies to carry on year on year, so these elections are important to be a part of.

Direct students to GSU information on Moodle

In lieu of the monthly lecture slides, information on what support GSU is offering to students will be made available on Moodle.

Promote wellbeing and self-care

Keeping in regular contact with your students, not just on an academic level but to check in on their mental wellbeing. If any concerns arise, you can signpost them to any support services currently on offer.

Signpost students to the Stressbusters

Signpost students to GSU StressBusters posts on all social media platforms. This will include various wellbeing tips, videos and opportunities for interaction for students.

Encourage Mentimeter for students to collect feedback

Share this link so they can find out more: bit.ly/uogmentimeter

Encourage students to nominate academics, support staff and students for our Student Led Teaching Awards greenwichsu.co.uk/slta (nominations close Friday 17th April)

Get in contact with curriculumconsultants@gre.ac.uk

who can give you some advice about inclusivity for all students!
